'Vimalan'... called him in loud voice. On hearing his father's voice, Vimalan enquired, "Did you call me, dad?" and came near him.

"Did everyone tease Kavin?" asked Mohan.

Vimalan didn't utter a word. He stood quietly.

"Even though I live in this big city, I also hail from the same village. My roots are still there" said his father worriedly. Then he added, "Go and bring your friends. I have to tell something to you." Saying this, he sat near Kavin.

When Vimalan brought his friends, his father made them all sit down together. Mohan asked the children, "Let me come to the point directly. Do you know from where do we get all the food?"

"The rice and pulses we eat? We buy them from shops", said Anandhan

"Tell me, where do the shopkeepers get these things from?"

"I guess they would buy them from another shop".

"I think they would buy them from those who grow crops, uncle", said Inba.

"Correct! We call those people who raise crops as farmers. Farming is the main occupation in villages".

The children looked at each other in surprise.

"The farmers grow various crops like pulses, grains, vegetables etc., and send them to the shops in cities. We buy and consume them".

"Uncle, I have a doubt", said Kavin.

"Tel me, Kavin"

"In villages, I have seen people selling all kinds of things in a place. Why do they call it 'Sandhai', instead of shops?"

"Yes, Kavin,

HOTS:

Imagine if money disappears one day?

VI Economics- Lesson 1.indd 184 09-07-2019 12.24.00 PM